Professor W. J. Loudon,

University of Toronto.

My dear Professor Loudon:

I have just had a telephone message from Professor McLennan asking me to speak to you about the time of the holding of your examination. He says that it is always held on one of his lecture hours, which cuts him out of his work, and he thinks that it would be equally possible for you to hold it in the afternoon. As this is a matter that has been repeated, he asserts, from year to year, he has asked me to use my influence to have it changed. I am sure that you will willingly fall in with his desire if it is at all possible.

Yours sincerely,

President.
